Something Fishy, Inc. expanded its aquarium furniture line into the newest location of Jordan's Furniture in New Haven, CT. Warren Buffett was the guest of honor at last night's private reception where he offered this investment advice "buy more (aquarium) furniture, it's a good investment"! His speech was brief after his introduction by Eliot Tatelman, the face of Jordan's and founding family.

Jordan's Furniture has long been known for their unique shopping experience. In March of this year Something Fishy, Inc. launched their Aquarium Furniture Line at Jordan's in Reading, MA. The premise was not only should customers have a great shopping experience, but they should be able to take the experience home with them. "They can do just that with an aquarium" says Kurt Harrington, CEO of Something Fishy, Inc. Customers of Jordan's are buying these aquariums to bring a great experience and excellent energy into their home. The aquariums are designed with "Simplicity in Aquarium Ownership" in mind, including options to have Something Fishy care for the aquarium for you.

Something Fishy's vision is to share the energy and influence of aquariums with people everywhere. It executes against that vision by building aquarium exhibits for commercial and residential clients while offering maintenance services to keep these exhibits spectacular at all times. Something Fishy began as a childhood hobby of CEO Kurt Harrington and today employs a team of biologists, husbandry and administrative team members that maintain the company's growth and client base. Harrington leads his team by way of the company's culture, F.I.S.H.: Fun, Irresistible, Simple & Honest. The company's client roster includes: Foxwood's Resort Casino, Mohegan Sun, Cabela's, Yale New Haven Hospital, Mystic Aquarium, Google, and many residential clients.
